Flyout

Luray Caverns—October 31, 2010

Fly to a World Underground

It has taken untold millennia for the chambers of Luray Caverns to build their spectacular displays of stalactites and stalagmites, one drip of water at a time. But they remain for us to visit, one of the wonders of the spectacularly scenic Shenandoah region of Virginia. A bonus will be a good look at nature's display of fall colors on the nearby mountainsides.

On October 31 we will fly to the Luray airport (W45) for a day of exploration. There's a one-hour tour of the cave and included admission to the Car and Carriage Caravan Museum. Don't forget warm clothing, as the interior of the cave is at a constant 54 damp, chilly degrees. Wear old shoes, because those mineral drips can be hard to remove. A fast food-type restaurant is on the premises, or you can picnic. For more information and prices go to www.luraycaverns.com.

It's 166 nm as the crow flies, but the crow can fly through the Washington Special Flight Rules Area, and you probably don't want to. We'll have a preflight briefing to discuss realistic, legal routing. Let's gather at Penn Airways at 0930 for 1000 takeoff. Contact

Dennis Galvin 610-630-4258 or zlinair@pond1.net if you want a ride or have an available seat.

2010 Christmas Party

Save the date of December 11, 2010 for our Christmas party at the Desmond. Details to follow.

November Meeting

At the November meeting we will have the FAA as our speaker and he asked what topic you all would be interested in. Let Winnie know by email winneellis@comcast.net or call 610-495-5111.

Fly In Breakfast

Last month's Fly-in breakfast was graced with excellent weather and as a result, we managed to post a reasonable profit. The board would like to thank all of the volunteers who gave of their time on both Saturday and Sunday.

In all we served 314 paying customers (267 adults and 47 children) and 18 volunteers for a total $1883. The raffles brought in an additional $2256 for a total income of $4139. After paying all the bills we made $1390.21.

The winner of the iPad was Mr. David of Macungie PA and the winner of the dinner for two at the Desmond was our own Rick Jones.

Congratulations

Congratulations to our youngest member Mike Dinnell on his marriage to Alicia on October 1, 2010. Have a wonderful life together.
